

1           DELEGATE GRANT: I would suggest to the Chair
2 that that is probably too narrow a definition of the word
3 "law". There are certain constitutional provisions which 4 certain obligations are bottomed on and bonding comes to 5 mind.

6           That would have to be carried over. 9 would 7 carry over except for the last clause. GP-12, being one 8 of the provisions, says that the 1867 Constitution then is 9 no longer effective.

10          THE CHAIRMAN: The first part dealing with the 11 continuance of law was not intended to be affected by the 12 last clause. The last clause was continuance of actions.
13 I would agree with you, you might have some actions con-14 tinued. This clause would continue it or at least it is 15 intended to continue notwithstanding the fact that the 16 Constitution itself by virtue of the provisions of GP-12
17 would cease to have effect on some given date.

18          Now, is your problem one where you don't see how 19 the right to continue if the Constitution on which it was 20 based did not continue.

21          Delegate Grant.
